BEST YEAR EVER IS PREDICTED FOR MILITARY SCHOOL

New Cadets Pour Into N. M. M. I. From All Parts of Country; Academic Department Down to Work.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Roswell, N. M., Sept. 18.—The twentieth annual session of the New Mexico Military Institute began Tuesday, September 18, with new cadets reporting from all parts of the United States, and with an unusually heavy enrollment from various parts of New Mexico. Students have been pouring in from all points of the compass and the barracks cannot accommodate the crowds. It has been necessary to use the office building as quarters for cadets, likewise a part of the hall for dormitory space. The battalion, which will probably number 270, is already divided into four companies. The new men are a splendid lot of fine looking soldier boys—sprick and span in their attractive uniforms, enthusiastic to make N. M. M. I. the biggest and best school in the west.

The institute buildings and campus this year present a magnificent appearance. With the addition to Hagerman barracks, this building is now one of the most modern school buildings west of the Mississippi. In length it is something over five hundred feet long, three stories in height, with imposing towers at each end and in the middle. The style of architecture is especially pleasing and appropriate for a military school. The new addition is to be completed the first week in October, after which there will be no more crowding of cadets, and the rule of three boys to a room will be abandoned.

Prospects are very bright for a splendid football eleven, which causes the athletic coach and the cadets generally a great deal of joy. The coach believes that the line-up now in prospect is the equal of the squads soon to be trotted out by the big eastern elevens. Nearly all the men who will try for the team are big and husky and are seasoned players. However, all cadets will be organized to join one of the class elevens, and inter-class gridiron contests will be encouraged.

Athletics will not be overdone, however, and a great deal of attention will be paid to the advanced military drills, to trench warfare, to target practice and to military engineering.

RECRUIT HINDUS TO PICKET PLANT AND SCARE MEN

Large Number of Men Walk Out of Mill in Sympathy With Seattle Strikers Against Ten Hour Lumber.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEAD WIRE)
Portland, Ore., Sept. 18.—Industrial Workers of the World have recruited a large number of Hindus and are picketing the Hammond plant, according to A. B. Hammond, president of the company. The pickets are endeavoring to frighten the workmen away, as the mill men do not want to strike, Hammond asserted.

As the Hammond mill furnishes light and power for Astoria, the port of Astoria authorities communicated with Governor Withycombe today regarding the situation. Apparently the governor transmitted the complaints to Colonel Dentler, who ordered troops to leave tonight.

Approximately one hundred more men went on strike at Astoria today, according to dispatches. Seventy-five of them were employees of the Hammond lumber mill who walked out, it is believed, in sympathy with Seattle strikers against ten hour lumber and about twenty-five were members of a pile driver crew at a ship yard who quit work in sympathy with carpenters on strike at the yard.

DRY CAMPAIGN OPENED BY OLIVER W. STEWART

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)
East Las Vegas, N. M., Sept. 18.—The "dry" campaign in San Miguel county for the special prohibition election in November was opened here Monday night with an address at the Duncan opera house by Oliver Wayne Stewart, a prominent Chicago prohibition campaigner. O. A. Larrazolo introduced the speaker. Rev. F. E. Farley, state superintendent of the Anti-saloon league, was here for the opening of the campaign.

CHEAPER FOOD IS PROSPECT FOR THE WINTER TIME

Before Frost, Five Cent Loaf of Bread Will Return, Potatoes Will Be Plenty and Priced Low.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)
New York, Sept. 18.—That more food and cheaper food will be offered to the people of this country by the time winter weather really begins, was asserted today by supply men who have been quietly conferring here over the developments of the dictatorship of Hoover and the campaign to crush market speculation. Before the first frosts set in the old 5-cent loaf of bread will return here in almost its old dimensions, potatoes will be plenty and priced, with most other food staples, close to the lower levels of ante-bellum costs, these experts predict; while even fuel may return to near normal rates when the government plans have worked out more fully. If the judgment of such market wiseacres has not gone entirely astray in these forecasts New Yorkers are ready to hail them as the best news that has been heard here for years.

School Success.
With more than a million boys and girls just beginning to plod to school again here, the opening of the educational season is showing this week that, in spite of war times, the call for higher and lower instruction is still increasing. While thousands of high school boys are prevented from resuming their desks on account of unfinished labors at patriotic planting on nearby farm colonies, the enrollment in public schools alone already shows an increase in pupils of from 15,000 to 20,000, with 35,000 children compelled to take part time courses in the congested districts. Although the German language will be dropped as a study in many class rooms the teaching of patriotic history, sentiment and action will more than take up the extra hours of the teachers.

Men's Movement.
Declaring that the Empire state will be put in the suffrage column on next election day, as surely as the sun will rise, leaders in the men's movement for women's votes here asserted today that the temporary release of Maine from the fight for woman's wartime rights would have no effect on the New York voters. Many men who believe that the mothers, wives, sisters and sweethearts of the soldiers of Uncle Sam should not be denied the franchise at this time, are already organizing men's leagues throughout the state to call for votes for women as a patriotic, just and beneficial wartime measure. Since England, Canada, France and other nations are going to make equal suffrage a part of their war program, thousands of the men of this city now assert that they are convinced of its necessity here.

Salvage Soldiers.
Watching the first thousands of recruits in the new draft army as they are settling down to business over at the Yaphank cantonment, the people of this city are being convinced that this section will soon have an army nucleus of more than ordinary promise. No better timber for soldiers has ever been assembled, the regular army officers in charge declare, and even to the eyes of civilians this democratic herd of rookies promise wonders when welded into regular ranks. By the time that all the draft men may be called to fill out the entire mobilization encampment, it now seems certain that this advance guard will be trained to offer a fine example and an effective lever to work into shape the whole lump.

Fighting Fashions.
Supplanting all the ordinary display of fall fashions, thousands of show windows have just begun to bloom with the khaki and entire equipment of the officers and men who have just taken up soldier service. Swagger stoles, puttees, visaged or campaign headgear, with all sorts of styles in military clothes, are the focus of the eye of the street crowds that used to stop and stare at millinery and dress exhibits. Now that almost one man in every two score here is wearing or about to wear fighting costumes, the old interest in styles of civilian tailoring is transferred to these new uniform wrinkles.

ITALIAN TELLS OF WELCOME IN UNITED STATES

Hearts Could Not Refrain From Emotion at Sight of Old Glory and Tri-color of Italy Intertwined.

(Associated Press Correspondence.)
Alessandria, Italy, Aug. 30.—Warm appreciation of the welcome given by Americans to the members of the Italian mission who visited the United States this summer, was expressed by Marquis Luigi Borsarelli, under secretary of the state for foreign affairs and member of the mission, in reporting some of the incidents of that visit on his return home. Addressing his constituency, the municipality of Alessandria, the marquis said:

"The scenes which we beheld were beyond all belief and all imagination. I could not describe to you the delicious multitudes, the hundreds of thousands of people, crowding the streets, and the Italian voices, mingling with those of the Americans and greeting us with acclamations and FEWER men today seek heaviness in smoking. Pleasant smoking is becoming the rule in business and professional circles.

Thinking men are discovering that to over-smoke is as unwise as to over-eat or over-work.

They are likely to find a cigar of the Tom Moore type well suited to their taste and their physique—a fragrance with no hint of heaviness; a quality of mildness peculiar to "a light-hearted Havana."

OVERRUN BY ENEMY BUT WILL FIGHT TO LAST

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEAD WIRE)
Tokio, Sept. 18.—Members of a Rumanian commission, which has arrived in Tokyo to purchase medicine and surgical supplies, expressed the conviction that their country, though one-third occupied by the enemy, would fight to the last. A member of the commission said the visitors would study the prospect of developing trade between Japan and Rumania after the war. He added that German goods would henceforth be boycotted in his country.

M. L. R. Opreanu, one of the commissioners, said there are more than ten Japanese army officers alone with British and French on the Rumanian general staff and with the artillery corps.
